

Health Services Research Colloquium

Spring 2023

Lectures will be held in-person and remotely via Zoom

<https://psu.zoom.us/j/91556694848>

(No prior registration is necessary)

11:30 am - 12:45 pm | 118 Keller Building

Monday
February 13

Di Yang

Ph.D. Candidate
Penn State University
College of Health and Human Development

What Money Can and Cannot Buy: Life-Disrupting Effect of Housing Demolition on Health

Monday
February 27

Daniel Walker, PhD, MPH

Assistant Professor of Family Medicine
Institute of Behavioral Medicine Research
The Ohio State University

Addressing Social Needs in Health Care Settings: Building the Evidence

Monday
March 20

Jiyoon Kim, PhD

Assistant Professor of Economics
Bryn Mawr College

The Effects of Paid Family Leave on Parents' Health around Childbirth — Evidence from California

Monday
April 3

Amresh Hanchate, PhD

Professor, Department of Social Sciences and Health Policy
Director, Program in Health Services Research
Division of Public Health Sciences
Wake Forest University School of Medicine

Understanding the Patterns in Destination Emergency Department of Ambulance Transports by Race/Ethnicity

Monday
April 17

Eberechukwu Onukwugha, MS, PhD

Professor, Department of Pharmaceutical HSR
University of Maryland School of Pharmacy

Data linkages to support oncology health services research: Results from a pilot study of barriers to healthcare utilization.